Weekly Newsletter - 1st March 2019

This Month's value is 'TRUST' - Please can you reinforce this value at home so that we have your support.

Dear parents,

Thank you to all of those who responded to our homework survey. We were really interested to know what your views on homework were and it was a great opportunity for us to review this.

The results of the survey were overall positive with 26% of parents saying they were really happy and a further 48% saying they were satisfied with the homework. It was great to look through the responses and see such positive comments such as:

'Homework is challenging and fun, especially the projects.'

'My child can understand it and do without help.'

'Just right for my son and it keeps him busy.'

'Happy with the content and how the homework extends my child's capability to excel herself.'

'I am happy with the amount of it and the level because it helps me to understand what level she is at, at school, so I can help her at home.'

'I am happy with the quantity being assigned as it is enough to challenge them, yet at the same time not enough to become a chore. We were really happy with the Bug club setup as my son embraced this as he liked earning points via the site.'

'Very happy, homework is interesting to my children, especially reading books.'

'We are pleased that there is homework that isn't too challenging at this stage, as it is important to build up confidence. We also like the small projects that our child is asked to complete, as this helps to build interest in the topic being taught.'

'The homework which is given is in a suitable amount and my daughter remembers her whole week learning and whenever she does her homework she really enjoys it.'

'My girls always enjoy their homework they like showing me what they have learnt through the week.'

Homework is all about children having the opportunity to do a bit more practice at home and bridge the gap between home and school so they can share their learning with you.

68% of parents said that homework was just the right amount of challenge for their child, we try to make homework easy enough to do independently without being too simple. If children need support with homework this is always available at school and there are lots of other things to support them such as bug club, reading books, and spellings.

Lastly, 76% of parents were happy with homework being set weekly. This is something we will continue to do. If you have any concerns at all about homework please feel free to contact your child's class teacher.

Have a fantastic weekend everyone!

Mr Edris Gaibee (Headteacher)
