

You are going to give the child some feedback. How have they gone wrong?
What could they do to improve their writing?

You then need to continue on the story making sure you follow the feedback you have given them.

once upon a time there is a girl called Laila. She was a nice girl Laila went to school and saw her friend called Caleb. He said hey Laila how are you! the two of them talked for ours and ours and didn't stop until the teacher told them of. Laila is going home and was feeling grate.
